

THE BERKELEY DAILY PLANET'S OBSESSION WITH ISRAEL

Is the Berkeley Daily Planet obsessed with Israel/Palestine to the complete exclusion of every other comparable ethnic, national and religious conflict concurrently taking place on earth? If the vituperative critics of Israel abounding in the Berkeley Daily Planet are not in fact motivated by the slightest anti-Semitic motives (as they always claim), but by a genuine concern for peace, justice, freedom and human rights, one could reasonably expect them to speak out against some other conflicts in which far more bloodshed and ethnic cleansing have actually taken place or are ongoing. Let's look at some numbers from the Berkeley Daily Planet's search engine which anyone could verify.

As of Aug. 7th, 2009

PALESTINE = 1,580

Results 1 - 10 of about 1,580 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for Palestine

DARFUR = 198

Results 1 - 10 of about 198 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "DARFUR".

SRI LANKA = 70

Results 1 - 10 of about 70 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "SRI LANKA"

KASHMIR = 61

Results 1 - 10 of about 61 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "KASHMIR"

SOMALIA = 60

Results 1 - 10 of about 60 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "SOMALIA"

BOSNIA = 56

Results 1 - 10 of about 56 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "BOSNIA".

CHECHNYA = 51

Results 1 - 10 of about 51 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "chechnya".

KURDISTAN = 18

Results 1 - 10 of about 18 from www.berkeleydailyplanet.com for "KURDISTAN".